Buy this facilitator's package if you:

- Want to help others learn to hear God's voice more easily
- Want a thorough resource to help put on an engaging and meaningful workshop.
- Have been impacted by Tony's work and want to present it to others.

As someone who has read many of Tony's books and attended all of his Meta-Formation workshops, I'm excited to have the Questions for Jesus Workshop package available to me. After attending the workshops and reading the books I wanted to be able to take what I learned and present it to other people. The Facilitators Package perfectly bridges the gap between the Questions for Jesus Group Guide (meant for a weekly class or small group) and Tony Stoltzfus' full Transforming the Heart workshop.

The in-depth outlines are synchronized with a PowerPoint presentation and handout file, and laid out in such a way that even the most novice presenter can look like an expert. Various sections are color coded so you know when to change slides and even what responses to expect from the audience at times.

The speaking points are thorough enough to make a beginner look like an expert, but short enough to give a more advanced presenter the flexibility to add in their own personal style. As someone with some presentation experience I found the guide easy to follow and gained confidence quickly that I would be able to do a great job of presenting the material.

I also appreciate how Tony takes care to pay attention to adult learning styles. He does a great job of limiting each section to about an hour so as not to overwhelm people. He also lays things out in such a way as to keep people engaged the entire time by the use of videos, games, and most importantly, asking Jesus questions.

After using this guide to help lead a workshop, I can confidently say that participants were hearing from Jesus in a way that touched their hearts and left feeling closer to Him.

Summary

This Facilitator's Guide provides everything you need to put on your own Questions for Jesus workshops. Reading through this guide, you will feel confident as a presenter, and participants will be engaged and encounter Jesus in a real and meaningful way.
